

THE QUAI D'ORSAY/ENTREPRISE PROJECT

Three PARTNERS working for EXCELLENCE

Your compagny...

... covers academic fees and living expenses (scholarship of €1,000/a month on average), tutoring and an internship in the company.

The Ministry of Foreign and European Affairs...

... provides social and medical coverage (€110/month), intensive French classes before departure, French government supported student status' benefit (helps participants attend cultural events and receive a personalised housing benefit – allocation personnalisée au logement).

French higher education institutions...

... offer master's degrees and doctorates fulfilling your needs.

Throughout the world scholarship programmes are co-funded to boost your international growth; develop your internal and external communication; get future foreign experts involved in your projects; help your sponsorship and pre-recruitment programmes.

At every stage with our embassies' expertise we promote the programme in trade fairs, meetings and local higher education institutions; select the best foreign students with the help of committees working with your representative; help scholarship holders obtain visa and residence permits.

Over 40 programmes, 32 countries, 90 companies

Whether you are a CAC 40 member or a SME/SMI: the Ministry of Foreign and European Affairs supports your international dimension:

- on the five continents;
- where you have development opportunities;
- in sectors where you have made strategic choices.

Simplified procedures...

... by signing an agreement defining measures and resources guided by synergy. A standard agreement is available on the Ministry of Foreign and European Affairs website:

www.diplomatie.gouv.fr/QOEntreprise

This "Foreign Ministry/Companies" partnership is in continual contact with our embassies to help guide, select and monitor applications, along with French higher education institutions.

Shared decisions

Every year your company, French higher education institutions and the French Ministry of Foreign and European Affairs meet in a steering committee which:

- decides on the programme's direction and development;
- validates the application process and defines the student selection procedures with the participation of the three partners;
- identifies the promotional action of the programme.
